Neighbors Say Auto Fled From Scene Of Garden Airdome Fire

Police Officials Convinced of Incendiarism But Fire Chief LaRose Does Not Believe Firebug Theory

Story of a Ford car hurrying away from behind the Airdome theatre eighth and Waco, a few minutes before it was practically destroyed by fire shortly after midnight Tuesday was narrated today by neighbors in the vicinity who declared today their belief that the blaze was incendiary. Persistent rumors that the building was destroyed by firebug continue to pour into the police station, officers said. Police Chief Covington is making a personal investigation of the case and said Wednesday evidence pointed strongly to the fact that the building had been set afire.

Detective Y. Q. Brantzen, who was assigned the case, did not discuss further than to say "there is evidently some funny work somewhere." Says Fire Started Suddenly Fire Chief LaRose precipitated a new angle in the case today, which he said he did not receive sufficient evidence to convince him the fire was of incendiary origin. Chief LaRose had been quoted by county papers Wednesday afternoon as saying he believed the fire incendiary.

"One reason for believing the fire was of natural causes instead of incendiary are the many different rumors as to how it could have been started," he said. "I have found nothing tangible on any theory advanced to sustain incendiarism in this case," was the fire chief's statement.

Another feature in running down the fire history was the night watchman was said to be eating his lunch when he first noted the blaze. Night Sergeant Enright furnished this information to the police.

BIG FIVE MEET AT NEDERLAND

Next Official Session To Be Held August 11

Next official meeting of the "Big Five" or Sabine District Industrial association composed of Chamber of Commerce officials from Port Arthur, Nederland, Orange, Beaumont and Port Neches will be at Nederland on the night of Monday, August 11. J. A. Glen, chairman of the association notified Manager A. L. Burge of the chamber here today.

Burge who is temporary secretary of the association has sent out a letter advising all chamber presidents in the district to see that the three directors to be chosen by each chamber are elected by August 4 in accordance with the constitution adopted here two weeks ago.

Beaumont is the first of the five cities to choose its board members. These are J. A. Glen, President H. M. Harrows of the Chamber of Commerce there and Howard Gardner, Burge was selected today. Port Arthur will notify its three representatives next Monday night at the regular semi-monthly directors' meeting. Henry Lohmann is this city's "Big Five" committeeman and will in all probability be retained on the next committee, is the belief of chamber officials.

C-C Souvenir Booklet Off the Press Soon

The Chamber of Commerce and Shipping souvenir booklet, 10,000 of which are being published for distribution over the entire world, will be off the press probably Saturday of this week and several thousand copies ready for distribution Monday, Manager Burge said today.

The booklet is said by the publicity and advertising committees responsible for its compilation to be the most elaborate ever put out by a commercial organization in this part of the state. It is tastefully illustrated and shows Port Arthur's advantages in all lines in an impressive way, those familiar with its contents say.

350 NEW MEMBERS ENROLLED BY Y. M. B. L.

Careful checking up of all remaining eligibles who have not been brought into the fold of Young Men's Business League membership drive, which has been in progress the last week was made by Chairman Ed Lohmann and committee members today in an effort to make the final membership increase count reach a total of 500.

The drive to date has netted 350 members, Lohmann says. Sometime in August a victory banquet will be held and at least 600 members and visitors are expected. New territory was being assigned today to different team captains. This is expected to bring in many who have been missed in the drive.

MILES DECISION BEING HELD UP

Fate of City Clerk May Be Known Tomorrow

The fate of City Clerk H. H. Miles, "fired" more than a month ago by the city commission, will not be known until tomorrow afternoon when Judge J. D. Campbell of the 40th district court hands down a decision at Beaumont.

Arguments were heard by Judge Campbell yesterday afternoon. City Attorney Vernon Wistner representing the city and H. L. Muray arguing for Miles. The case is in regard to a point of law, no evidence being introduced, and Judge Campbell asked for time to consult the citations given by the two attorneys in their arguments. The hearing on the temporary injunction against Miles lasted two hours yesterday.

LABOR BEGINS BALLOT PROBE

A. F. of L. May Throw Support to LaFollette

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 31.—With three million worker votes looking to it for guidance, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor arrived today to determine which way it will try to throw the organization's national strength in the November elections.

The various groups on the council board have given strong indications that the candidacy of Senator LaFollette will be encouraged either by a straightforward endorsement or by some other means.

COFFEE HAS GONE UP, BUT NOT AT THE COUNTER

Practically all of the coffee in Brazil (that's in South America, if you don't know) is in the hands of the rebels, says Marvin Williams of the Gulf Coffee company. He says the rebels control about 8,000,000 bags of coffee, while the government only has about 1,000,000 bags under its control.

And yet, coffee's cheap at that—because it's cheaper in Port Arthur right now than it is on the New York market. Williams says buying is now being done on a new basis, while the present prices—which show increases as much as 35 per cent over two weeks ago—are based on cheaper market prices.

One month ago Peaberry coffee was being shipped into Port Arthur wholesale at 13 cents a pound delivered. Today it costs 24 cents 6 o. b., says Williams. In the last couple of weeks Rio coffee has gone up from 11 cents to 20 cents, and Santos coffee has increased from 17 cents to 22 cents a pound in price.

Davidson Chiefs Admit Defeat

MRS. FERGUSON HAS 5,000 LEAD

Additional Reports Continue To Boost Majority

HEADQUARTERS CLOSED

Lynch Davidson Houston Managers Give Up Hopes

HOUSTON, July 31.—Lynch Davidson, campaign headquarters in Houston have been abandoned, it was announced today by J. Lewis Thompson, local campaign manager.

Thompson said he had about given up the ship and that he saw slim chance of Lynch Davidson overtaking Mrs. Ferguson's lead of over five thousand votes. No contest is being considered, Thompson declared.

To Vote Against Robertson

"I'm going to vote for Mrs. Ferguson," Thompson said. "I would do anything—anything that was not crooked—to get another man in the race. I would count it a calamity if the state of Texas is turned over to Felix Robertson, klanman. It would mean that the state would be run by Zeke Marvin and Bill Hanger."

MRS. FERGUSON TO OPPOSE ROBERTSON

DALLAS, July 31.—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson of Temple, wife of the impeached Governor James E. Ferguson, and first woman gubernatorial candidate had increased her lead at 10 a. m. today to 5,237 votes over Lynch Davidson for second place in Saturday's state democratic primary.

Mrs. Ferguson therefore is almost certain to be the opponent of Judge Felix D. Robertson of Austin, klan ingested candidate, in the second primary, or run-off election on August 23.

Tabulations today accounted for 665,099 ballots out of a possible 690,000 or 700,000 cast.

YMBL to Aid C-C Monthly Publication

The monthly magazine of the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping will also have the assistance of the Young Men's Business League and will be the official publication of both bodies, Manager A. L. Burge of the former states.

The magazine will be named "Port Arthur" and will bear on the front piece "America's Fifth Port" as the official slogan. Burge states the first issue will be probably in September and 3000 copies will be published.

EXAMINED

Children's Stomachs Search For Poison

AUSTIN, July 31.—At the laboratory of the State Health Department stomachs of two of the Hauptrief children whose bodies were exhumed Wednesday in the burial ground at Hilsand, Tingo county, were being prepared today for analysis to determine whether or not death had resulted from arsenic poisoning. Because the body of a third child which was also exhumed had been embalmed it is probable that no analysis will be made of its stomach, announcement being made at the laboratory that as embalming fluid contains arsenic positive determination that death was due to arsenic poisoning could not be had. A week or 10 days will be consumed in making analysis of the stomachs and when they have been completed confidential report of results will be made to the authorities of Tingo county.

TO LEAVE HOSPITAL

Mrs. D. C. Duplan, 1209 Thomas boulevard, is expected to be able to leave the Mary Gates hospital within a few days. She has been critically ill for the last two weeks, and underwent a serious operation for ulcer of the stomach some days ago. The operation was performed by Dr. W. G. Young.

Countess Sails

The Countess von Bernstorff posed for the cameraman as the Leviathan pulled out of New York taking her back to Germany.

ANTHRAX HERE STAMPED OUT

Dr. Baker Claims Disease Under Control

Anthrax here is virtually stamped out despite a report issued Wednesday by Dr. J. G. Cloud, state veterinarian, that the Texas livestock commission, that this and other counties of this section was still in a serious condition and the epidemic continuing according to local health officials.

Refutation of the state department bulletin was by Dr. O. J. Baker, city inspector, who with Dr. W. H. Litton has handled the anthrax situation here from the beginning. Since this county was quarantined July 19, last, Dr. Litton says he has administered anthrax serum to approximately 3,000 head of stock in the Port Arthur section.

Few Cases Found

Dr. Litton says when the anthrax was at its worst here he treated about 25 cases a week. The past two weeks he has treated but two cases, he said today. The fact that Port Arthur stockmen were early warned by local veterinarians to administer preventive serum against the disease is given as why this section has had less fatalities than any section of the stricken area, the health officer says.

No death of humans has been recorded in Texas so far as could be learned because of the disease. At Lake Charles a man is said to have become infected while treating cows suffering with anthrax, and later died. This is the nearest instance of a fatality in this section.

ADVERTISE BIDS FOR HAULING CITY GRAVEL

Bids to be advertised for will be opened by the city commission Monday, August 4, for hauling of 2270 cubic yards of shell and gravel from the Southern Pacific tracks. The material will be used for finishing up work on Orange and El Paso avenues and Thomas boulevard. Hauling is to be to the ground.

The men made their escape by sliding down a rope ladder from the second floor and picking a lock on their way to freedom.

FAIR COMMITTEE FAILS TO MEET COMMISSION

ARMED GUARDS AT REFINERY

Texas Company Patrolled And Searchlight Played

RUMORS CURRENT

Dodge Denies Any Danger Threatened Plant

The Texas Company refining plant, west of Port Arthur, its pipe lines and isolated pump houses were placed under armed guards it was learned early today.

The entire plant already enclosed by high wire fences is being patrolled from one end to the other. At night a huge searchlight, mounted on a high tower throws its beams from one end of the plant to the other while organized guards carrying high powered rifles patrol the outskirts from one station to another.

Other Guards to Plant

Other guards, it is stated, are within the plant proper and patrol regular beats just as the guards on the outside.

Rumors that the refinery feared Bolsheviks and disgruntled workers were current on the streets today, but this could not be verified by any of the plant executives.

One rumor brought to The News office said that machine guns had been mounted at strategic places ready for instant use.

Dodge Makes Statement

"There is nothing particularly to worry about," said F. P. Dodge, superintendent of the refinery plant. "We throw out guards every so often. It is necessary that we do this just the same as we require regular fire drills from our men. I have heard nothing that would warrant me in believing the Texas Company or any of its property was in danger."

Workers at the plant and people in town, however, have been stirred up to considerable excitement due to the precautions being taken.

It is also rumored that several local business houses have hired watchmen for their plants at night. The News, however, could not definitely locate any local business house that was actually being guarded at night by hired watchmen.

Fred Ardner Coming To Port Arthur Soon

Word that Fred Ardner, who is to erect in Port Arthur a plant for the manufacture of cigars, will be here on August 6, was received from the manufacturer today by Manager A. L. Burge of the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping.

Ardner on arrival will be met by the industrial committee of the chamber and with these will begin at once search for a suitable location for the cigar plant. The plant personnel will be about 20 to begin with, and is expected to grow to where at least 150 workmen will be necessary. Ardner states in his letter.

MAIL SERVICE SPEEDED UP BY POSTMASTER

Mail service to Beaumont and east Texas points along the Santa Fe as far as Longview was speeded up two hours Wednesday when Postmaster S. L. Dunn changed the dispatch schedule from 12:45 p. m. Kansas City Southern to the 10 a. m. interurban.

This gives a connection with the Santa Fe at Beaumont impossible by the former K. C. S. route. Mail for Beaumont is also reached under the new schedule in time for city delivery in the afternoon, Postmaster Dunn explains.

DAVIDSON IN CHARGE OF LIONS' PROGRAM

Dr. V. H. Davidson will be in charge of the program of the Lions club Friday noon at their weekly Plaza luncheon and promises plenty of entertainment.

NEW THEORY IN MYSTERY CASE

Believe Marsh Burned to Destroy Body

Constable, Assistants, Continue Search for Murphy

The body of Tom "Shotgun" Murphy missing from his hermit shack at Taylor's Bayou for 10 days may have been burned in a fire which Tuesday afternoon and all day Wednesday swept the marsh country in that vicinity.

This was believed today by Constable E. F. Baker and Deputy Johnson who for the last four days have made a continuous search for Murphy. The marsh fire which Baker says it is reasonable to believe might have burned up Murphy's body, was caused, he said, by a still raid made Tuesday afternoon by himself and Johnson.

Officers Found Still

While searching for the hermit's body the officers came upon a still in operation. The apparatus was destroyed by burning and abandoned by the officers. Whether the conflagration which swept the dry marsh was from this cause or was the work of those who are believed to have killed Murphy is the question before the officers.

Baker and Johnson remain firm in their belief that Murphy was killed by a ring of whisky makers who thought Murphy was too friendly with officers. The officers Monday questioned several alleged whisky men, two of whom they declared they strongly suspected as knowing something of the case.

Attempted Arrests Futile

An effort yesterday and today to arrest these two has proved futile and both men are said to have left the country. Others have been questioned each day sheds a little more light on the mystery. The hulking hole in Murphy's boat, and the work done wide open with the hermit's trinkets and items of value to him still there, are arguments which officers say offset the theory Murphy decided to run away.

"Murphy's body is in that marsh burned up or at the bottom of the bayou weighted down with something, I firmly believe," was Johnson's answer today when told there are some who say Murphy is still alive and had put out to sea.

To Re-search Marsh

Today the marsh lands over which the fire has smoldered over the last 30 hours again will be gone over by the officers in the hope of finding the charred body of the missing man.

Neighbors of the hermit at Taylor's bayou and Port Arne are anxiously now all agreed with the officers that he was a victim of foul play.

"There are two suspects we are anxious to get and if possible we are going to find out what they know. Our investigation reveals that somebody knows what became of Murphy and is afraid we are going to know, also," was Constable Baker's final opinion on the case today.

Cling to Theory

Conceding it is entirely possible the marsh fire was caused by destruction of the still by themselves Tuesday afternoon, Baker and Johnson cling to the theory the marsh was set afire by those they believe guilty of the believed murder.

"The officers state it is not improbable the searching of the swamp by them was watched closely by members of the whisky ring. When Baker and Johnson left for the day late Tuesday it is believed the marsh was set afire and the still ably advanced.

TEXAS COMPANY MADE DEFENDANT

State Seeks Title to 648 Acres of Land

AUSTIN, July 31.—The Texas Company and the Humble Oil and Refining company are among forty-two defendants in a suit brought by the state in the Fifth district court of Travis county to recover title to 648 acres of Harris county oil land and for damages aggregating fifty million dollars. G. C. Perkins, of Houston, one of the defendants for $28,000,000.

Profits Asked For

Allegation is made that defendants came into possession of the land in 1901 and the accounting and settlement asked for are the profits from the oil and gas taken from the land since that time. Perkins claims to have been wrongfully denied a permit to drill on the land in 1917 through the refusal of the then attorney general to authorize the land commissioner to issue such permit.

The state alleged that 25,000,000 barrels of oil have been taken from the land. It is one of the largest oil land suits ever filed in Texas.

STATE LOSES IN SANITY FIGHT

Judge Rules to Hear All Loeb-Leopold Evidence

CRIMINAL COURT ROOM, CHICAGO, July 31.—At the end of two more hours of argument by the state today in its effort to exclude defense witnesses from the witness stand, Chief Justice John R. Caverly had not changed an earlier ruling and the advantage still rested with the defense in the Leopold-Leopold murder case.

A assistant states attorney Marshall, after a four hour argument yesterday, consumed the whole morning, except for a few moments spent in wrangling by attorneys for both sides and a few remarks about the court. He pointedly the court made it plain that the scores of rulings presented by the state had not caused him to change his mind.

Contract Awarded for Two Carloads Gravel

Contract was awarded this morning by the city commission to the Urbana Sand and Gravel company for two carloads of gravel at $3.22 a cubic yard delivered. The gravel will be sprinkled on several blocks on Eighth street and on Stowell boulevard.

The Urbana company's bid was $1.49 loaded at Urbana. Bid of the Beaumont Building material company was $3.65 delivered, while the Turner Gravel company of San Antonio bid 70 cents a ton on board at Luzzello. J. Imhoff and Sons of Port Arthur bid $3.05 on gravel running 2500 pounds a cubic yard, and $3.05 on gravel running 2700 pounds a cubic yard.

With each car containing 35 to 40 cubic yards, the price of the Urbana gravel will be about $3.00.

COVINGTON CONFIDENT OF TRAFFIC LIGHTS

"Sure, we'll have those traffic lights," Police Chief Covington said this morning. Covington promised to the city commission early this week to install an electric traffic control system at the corners of Procter and Austin, Procter and Waco, and Austin and Fifth. Total cost of the system, including installation, is expected to reach $15,000.

The proposition has been referred to City Attorney Wistner for a decision as to whether the city has the authority to make the expenditure.

Board of Equalization Convenes August 15

The city board of equalization, consisting of the three members of the city commission, is expected to start work by about August 15, says G. K. Lomax, city tax assessor and collector, who is also secretary of the board.

Lomax is now hard at work on the rolls and expects to mail out the first notices by August 10 to taxpayers whose remittances have been raised. A week will intervene after mailing of notices before taxpayers are entitled to a hearing before the board on why their values should not be raised.

PEGGY WANTED ONE LAST WORD

But Hubby Fled Into Long Island Wilds

NEW YORK, July 31.—One leap ahead of the process servers, Count Gosta Morner has vanished from New York.

And his bride of two months—because he got away.

Peggy Hopkins Joyce wanted one last word with her handsome (big-headed Swede) as she coyly called him. She wanted to serve him with the papers for action of separation.

Got Annulment First

The gallant saw to it that a suit of his own for annulment was in Peggy's hand before he disappeared into the wilds of Long Island.

There is one thing about Peggy Hopkins Joyce, she is never off with an old love or on with a new without plenty of mutual recriminations or otherwise. Some of the maxims of the Countess Morner, husbandless again for the moment, were:

"As far as I am concerned, you can spell it M-u-n-i-e-r" hereafter, Plain Peggy Joyce for mine. I never intended to capitalize the title.

"I thought he was just a big, handsome boy—but he turned out a pig-headed Swede."

"He wouldn't go to work. It was easier for him to stay around and have me hand him money."

AIRMEN HALT

clung to the tips of the hills of Long Island, across the waters of the Gulf.

Seagulls Circle Planes

Squalling seagulls circled about the three world flight planes flying aloft at their anchors along the coast.

The machines were ready for the long flight to Bermuda, on the southern coast of Ireland. But although the weather here cleared, until flying was possible and our men—and even the spick and span planes—had an appearance of brisk readiness—were eager to be off, the wireless told of heavy fog in Ireland.

So the flyers decided down to a real American breakfast of bacon and eggs and breakfast food, the first time they had enjoyed the latter since they breakfasted aboard an American destroyer somewhere in the Orient.

Iceland Fog Heavy

Every now and then one of the airmen would get up from the breakfast and take a look out of a porthole to see how the weather was coming on.

Scapa Flow, where the German fleet surrendered, lay calm in the morning sunlight, cool and clear, but the chattering radio told of Iceland fog since dawn.

Try Over Signal Hill

The course of the signal on this 500 mile "hop" lies due north from the Richmond over Signal Hill, which once served the British navy as Admiral Jellicoe's lookout station and on over Kirkwall and out to sea.

Once over the high seas only the trackless way of the old Vikings and discoverers marks their course. Down below three American war vessels will be on the watch, the Billingsley at the far end, the Raleigh at the other end, and the Raleigh at the other end.

Our aviators are conscious of the difficulties that lie just ahead but doubt if they will prove as severe as the Alaskan and Aleutian flights.

PRESIDENT STEROTYPERS ORGANIZATION IS DEAD

CALDWELL, N. J., July 31.—James J. Fred, for 25 years president of the International Stereotypers and Electrotypers union, died here today.

Is the shortening pure?

"MRS. TUCKER'S looks good enough to eat just that way, doesn't it? It's so perfectly clean!"

That is a remark we have heard made about Mrs. Tucker's time and again. And that is just the way you will feel the first time you open a can of Mrs. Tucker's and see its creaminess and snowy whiteness.

Mrs. Tucker's Shortening is clean, made exclusively of choice cotton seed oil. It has all the richness of butter, yet is no more expensive than ordinary shortening. And it comes to you always fresh, for Mrs. Tucker's is made right here in the South.

Will Brave Atlantic in This

The "Carrie," 12 feet long with a three-foot beam, and built entirely of steel, in which Wm. Oldham, its designer, Warrington, England, will seek to cross the Atlantic Ocean in 40 days. He planned such a trip several years ago but was forbidden to start by the mayor of Liverpool.

Sailings Keep Marine Officials Busy

Had it not been for the sailings from Sabine district ports today ship activities would be practically at a standstill, for no arrivals were reported with the exception of the Gulf company tanker, Gulfland, which came in this morning from Beverly.

The sailings, however, have kept marine officials busy for some time, two of which were shifted ports for completion of cargo. The Transmarine corporation's motorship, Suphena, which discharged her cargo at Beaumont, came down to Port Arthur this morning to look out for the return voyage to Port Newark.

The tanker W. E. Burdell, which has been loading out cargo at Port Neches, passed through Port Arthur this morning on her way to Sabine to complete her cargo of oil.

The schooner Fearless, after loading 700,000 feet of lumber at the local docks, sailed this morning for Port Neches. The Fearless is owned by C. Flanagan.

Two of the Texas company boats which have been loading at the Texas company docks sailed today, the Bessemer City for Shanghai, China, with a cargo of rice oil, and the schooner Silas for Port Neches. Another foreign bound vessel leaving a Sabine port today was the steamer Mount Evans, which sailed from Orange for Liverpool.

MARKETS

WALL STREET JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, July 31.—The bulletin board that followed the stock market was anything but cheerful today, as the market surged forward.

The regular favorites among the industrials, like steel, American Can and Studebaker, were actively bought and new highs were established in many parts of the market.

Although the market was quiet, the regular favorites among the industrials, like steel, American Can and Studebaker, were actively bought and new highs were established in many parts of the market.

Industrial activity which had practically monopolized the market was forced aside as the market took the spotlight and made a spectacular advance of nearly five points. Other rails developed greater activity, particularly the Erie, the common stock of which rose 1 1/2 points and the first preference advanced 1 1/2. Chesapeake and Ohio went to 82.

MailREVOLUTION IN RHODE ISLAND; BOMB BURSTS

To its sister states, the trials and tribulations of the Rhode Island senate, climaxed by the crushing of a vile smelling bomb in the chamber on June 19, may appear funny. But to Rhode Islanders the political fight is serious. For two years the democratic minority in the senate has been trying to remove the republican majority to accept a constitutional convention to remove the inequalities of senatorial qualification for the state.

It will come as a surprise to citizens of states that try to live up to democratic ideals of government to learn that Rhode Island, politically, is still back in the forties. Her constitution, adopted in 1842 and then only after an armed rebellion, imposes the antiquated property qualification for voting. This plays into the hands of the old-line politicians. Further to strengthen the grip of Old Guard Republicans is the constitution's provision for senatorial apportionment. Under its "rotten borough" system, a city of 200,000 population elects one senator who may be outvoted by two senators from two towns of 300 or 400 population each. Thirteen Rhode Island towns, with a total population of 17,900, send 11 republicans, one democrat and one independent to the senate; 11 cities with 501,000 inhabitants elect eight democrats and three republicans.

This is the kind of government Rhode Island has. It has enabled a privileged class of mill owners and "hard-boiled" political aristocrats to keep the people of the state in economic bondage. We speak of "backward" southern states, but here is a northern state still living in plantation days. The tides of social progress have swirled about it, leaving it untouched. And out of Rhode Island have come into our national senate products of this "rotten borough" system. The state is noted for the Old Guardians sent to Washington to further in the nation the schemes of special privilege with which its state government has been saturated.

Who planted the bomb that broke up the democratic filibuster to prevent the senate's adjourning without acting on the resolution for a constitutional convention is a mooted question. Affidavits published the other day purported to show that the Republicans had hired a man to set it off. Rhode Island officials who were sent to Rutland, Mass., where the republican senators are hiding out to keep from being forced to attend senate sessions, were not permitted to investigate further. In the meantime, with the democrats unable to muster a quorum, the legislative calendar waits. But the decaying old regime is beginning its last stand. And other states that do realize that modern life lays social obligations on governments will be pleased when Rhode Island catches step with the century.

HE KNOWS, BUT WILL HE?

"It is a wise man who knows when to stop work," says Rev. James Anderson of Syracuse.

It is a wise man who stops upon knowing when. The country is full of men who are fagged out by the daily grind, who know it, and yet, with one excuse or another, don't stop.

They can't afford it, they think, and yet a good rest is a money-making enterprise, in the long run.

Or, the old shop or office wouldn't get along, if they laid off; and so, the rising lieutenants in the business get no chance to show the managerial stuff that's in them, and because they haven't been tested or given a chance at experience, the business does break down when death or disease compels "the old man's" vacation.

The business that is dependent solely upon No. 1, day after day, is in a shaky condition, in these times, and the best way to teach No. 2 how to swim is to take him by the hind leg and throw him into seven or eight feet of water; that is, get out and give him a chance to show what is in him.

A good vacation is medicine and a profitable business enterprise, and every fellow whose nose is on the grindstone of hard work is entitled to it.

This sounds just like a doctor coming in and saying "You're sick," and letting it go at that, with no attempt at relief. So, we'll add a prescription:

Take a fish rod, or a gun, or a put-stick, or the old "Lizzie," and go 'way off somewhere where telegrams, letters and other worldly affairs, save, perhaps, mosquitoes, can't get at you.

The grindstone will go 'round and 'round as usual and some bright young lieutenant will be sharpening his wits on it, for the good of the business.

Why the Idea

for two hours? Why didn't you swim ashore? Everyone thought you had been drowned."

The Comedy Next Door
There is a great deal of comedy
Goes on next door—
Supplied by the winks
And the would-be shanks
Who laugh and joke and try to Make dates with the latest Thing in Babo Vamps—of the loveliest
Voice and sweetest smile above
The newest vogue in summer frocks:

There is no doubt the girl next door
Is a knock-out
She smiles and plays a lively game
And holds the heart of every male
She meets in her little white hands
But I do not love the girl next door
She is my rival!

—Patricia Stoner

He: "Dick's a regular card."
She: "Oh, yes. Quite a joker."
—Monte Rees.

Information
"What is it, ma'am?" asked the theater doorman of the kindly old lady who had been crying him for several minutes.

"I just wanted to say," she summered with uncertain smile, "that I hope you movie people aren't as wicked as they say you are."

—James Allitt.

A Block Joke
Salesman: "Can I interest you in some stock in the Keep Cool Ice company?"

Woman: "I guess not. All they have are frozen assets; and I think hot weather continues their stock will be watered."

Rudolph Wick:—Can anybody tell me who said:
"Give me liberty or give me death?"
and why?

Dear Rudy: Ask us an easy one.
King Solomon is the unhappy author.
One day, while celebrating 41 wooden,
23 tin, 11 crystal, and 9 silver wedding anniversaries—all his own—he composed the following quatrain:
Am I their husband? Did I woo a town?

The town of all these women takes my breath.

I'll never live to live (his household down—
Oh, give me liberty, or give me death!

very largely due to this refusal. If we had taken our place, as was proper, in

It has prevented wars by merely fur-not authority. That is, it assists the virtue of bringing everything into a

Every form of activity tends to co-

the other peoples. We shall have to do one of three things: To enter the League without reservations, to enter it with reservations, or to re-operate without entering.

It is impossible for us to maintain a consistent isolation.

When the people of the country these three things. No man lives for-

Fetching Frocks for Mid-Summer Show Effective Combination of Colors

FETCHING frocks for midsummer always give milady delight. Many gay colors are seen in the attractive frocks nowadays, sometimes singly and sometimes in groups within the confines of one frock. The great artistry with which the colors are assembled makes the printed fabric especially appealing to Port Arthur women of discriminating taste. An enchanting alliance of colors noticed recently on a crepe de chine gownwork—apple green, deep cream yellow and black. And another was of coral, brown and green; while another especially effective combination was powder blue, jade green, black and orange.

To match up one of the colors in a printed silk and employ it in some manner of trimming is usually necessary to bring out the character of the design. There are many ways of very simple ways of handling the fabrics which have become too popular even thus far in the season to suit the woman who aims to be individual. An unusually pretty frock, which introduces the plain material in a way that is different, is being shown in a downtown shop as one of the designs featuring the use of two materials.

The lines of the frock adhere to the accepted mode for straight and bell-shaped frocks, being cut in one piece with either a few tiny tucks run in on each side at the waistline, or, if one's figure is very slender, being left absolutely plain. A low U-shaped yoke, distinguishes the upper portion, with a plaited fold of the plain color surrounding it, and a flat tuck of the same filling it in to a higher neckline. Slender three-quarter length sleeves close deep to the wrist, while a deeper ruffle of the same material completes the lower skirt portion. Should you desire to employ less of the plain fabric, you could use it only as a binding on plaited folds of the printed silk, and as the flat yoke, also the ribbon which adds such a pleasant air with its small bow and long ends down the front. A black ribbon, of course, would also prove effective. A red and white tulle dotted georgette or crepe de chine would be very fetching handled according to this design, with a white georgette yoke and bindings on the folds and a black moire taffeta ribbon bow and streamers.

HOTEL BEAUMONT ORCHESTRA TO PLAY FOR DANCE HERE

Members of the younger set will greet with delight the announcement that the Hotel Beaumont orchestra will play for a dance at the New Lakeview hotel Friday evening, August 1.

Dancing will be enjoyed from 9 to 12 o'clock. Friday evening's entertainment will be the first of a series of dances to be inaugurated in Port Arthur with music being furnished by the Hotel Beaumont orchestra.

K. S. Nash is director of the orchestra which has made an enviable reputation throughout southeast Texas.

LEADERS WILL TRY TO AVERT OPEN SPLIT

The method of sanctioning the LaFollette movement so as not to commit labor to any open break with either of the two major parties or pledge itself irrevocably to any party, is the chief question to be fought over by the 12 members of the council.

Sessions open tomorrow at the Ambassador hotel and are expected to continue possibly a week or ten days. Samuel Gompers, president of the federation in a pre-meeting statement gave no open indication as to what decision would be reached except a statement that the federation "would abide by its time honored policy of non-partisan action."

BY MONTAGNE SAUNDERS

Noted Social Writer

WASHINGTON, July 21.—In the midst of her social duties in Washington and her responsibilities as the wife of a politician and the mother of three sons, Frances Parkinson Keyes finds time for the career she has always cherished—that of an author.

Her latest book, "Letters From a Senator's Wife," should be on the required reading list of every woman who contemplates living in Washington or taking any part in official life. It will save the fledgling politician's wife many embarrassments and prepare her intelligently for what is to come.

Found New Job
When her husband, who is the senator from New Hampshire, entered upon his official duties in Washington, Mrs. Keyes found herself facing a job just as new and trying as that of being a senator's wife.

She recounts her first experiences with the utmost candor and does not hesitate to mention her first faux pas as well as her triumphs, and her series of letters gives a very interesting sketch of social life in Washington.

Lived in Country
She maintains a constant appreciation of the advantages of Washington society, a kindly tolerance for all its formalities and seems never to forget what the folks back home want to hear about.

"Because," she told me very frankly, "I know what it is to live in the country, more or less cut off from people who seem to be doing things and having an exciting life. I've spent that way."

"I know what a mother wants to read in those few minutes after the lunch hour has been put to bed and the household duties have been brought to the point where they may be safely deferred and carried over to the next day."

"I know what it is to carry about in my head all sorts of stories and plots that you simply haven't got time to get down on paper."

Mother's Viewpoint
In other words, I've been a lone some, sometimes very discouraged and overworked housewife, with apparently nothing ahead but more of the same. Now that I have a chance to participate in a broader and more exciting life, I want to share it with those who don't."

Mrs. Keyes has already done considerable fiction and is a public speaker of much ability. She knows politics thoroughly and undoubtedly could have a spectacular career in politics if she wanted to. But she prefers to write.

"One politician in a family is enough," she says. "Being the wife of a politician is a job by itself. You could scarcely combine the two."

LEGION AFTER FLAG DISPLAY

Seek to Erect Decorations in Uniform Way

An American flag on a 12-foot pole will be placed in front of every business house in Port Arthur before a number of residences at a distance of 25 feet apart if the plans of the American Legion post carry out, it was learned today from Commander J. L. Dunn.

The movement received the enthusiastic endorsement of Manager Burgess of the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping and Export Bureau and of the Retail Merchants' association. The flags are put on staffs which are securely grounded by a patent process. The flags can be fluted at any angle and are easy to manipulate.

Covers All Decorations
By placing the flags uniformly in front of all business houses, the question of decorating for national and state holidays is taken care of and tastefully, in the argument in favor of the plan. When conventions are held here or the city host at anytime the flags can be brought out without any extra effort.

"The American Legion is back of this movement because it will educate our people to have more respect for the flag and more successfully teach flag etiquette. We sincerely hope the movement is given hearty support," Commander Dunn said today.

If the flag proposition is accepted by the merchants it will be in operation here by August 24, the company representative said today. That the system is installed and going good by the time the fair is held next September is the hope of many merchants.

RED SIGNS LEAD TO SCOUT ENCAMPMENT

Visitors who expect to be guests of local Boy Scouts at their annual encampment headquarters at Silsbee next Sunday are advised by scout officials to follow red signs which will be placed en route directing to the camp.

Scoutmasters who have this week visited the 60 boys at camp report excellent work being done and the boys enjoying fine health.

Lemons Bleach the Skin White

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with one ounce of Orchard White, which will supply for a few cents.

Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Lemon stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—A-B

"Hello, Leslie, this is Bee. Where have you been? I have been trying to get you for a half hour."

"How are you, Bee? I did not hear the phone because I was in the nursery. I did not expect you so soon. I'm so glad to hear your voice."

"I didn't expect to get here so soon either, but I came through town Cleveland by motor with Dick."

"How lovely! Is Dick over at Sally's with you now?"

"No, dear, he's at the hotel. He has some movie picture business to attend to here. I have a stupendous piece of news I tell you. If you want us to, Dick and I will be married at our anniversary party. I have promised to marry Dick tomorrow and go back to Hollywood tomorrow. Don't you think it would be nice to have the wedding party enter just as we did three years ago, Leslie? Then when we reach a certain place in your drawing room Sydney Carton could step back, Dick would step forward, and supported by you and Jack, we could be married."

"Beatrice Grimshaw, you never in your conventional mind planned such a marriage as this! It's a regular movie picture affair. Come up in half an hour and I'll get a hold of Jack and we'll get it all fixed up, Goodbye."

"Will you please connect me with Mr. Summers' room?"

"Party on the line for you, Mr. Summers."

"Dick, this is Bee. I have just been talking with Leslie, and she thinks it would be lovely for us to be married at her home. Isn't that sweet of her?"

"Anything is sweet of anybody. Bee, dear, that will let me take you back to Hollywood with me. I know that if I am married, I'll be with you."

BELIEVE SAN ANTONIO MAIDEN KILLED SELF

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 31.—That Grace Robbins, 18, killed herself because of her slow progress in preparing for examination for a teacher's certificate is the opinion expressed by Mrs. W. M. McMillan, who had employed the girl as maid. The young woman swallowed poison tablets. A verdict of a suicide was rendered by a jury of the Peace Camp.

COULD NOT WALK BECAUSE OF PAIN

Bad Case of Woman's Illness Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I had such a bad case of female trouble that I could not walk because of the pain from inflammation. My back was all aches. I could not get up stairs because of weakness, and no one could possibly be in worse shape than I was. I have taken 15 bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am a strong woman now and can work down any of my neighbors. They wonder how I can do so much work. I dare say that I have recommended your medicine to a thousand women. A little book was thrown at my door, and that is how I first learned of it."—Mrs. D. M. BEAUCHAMP, 1104 Morrison Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"You said you were likely to make two fortunes."

"Hopping rain loads!" exclaimed Mister Zip, the fairyman, one day in Happy Go Lucky Park. "If I don't hurry up I'll never make my fortune. Here it is—the end of the season almost and I haven't made it yet."

"Why," said Nancy in surprise, "there were so many people here yesterday that you said you were likely to make two fortunes."

"I know! I know!" said Mister Zip. "And it did look like it because the park was just crowded. But when I counted my money I found that, although there were nearly a hundred people, I had only sold 10 tickets. How do you account for that, I'd like to know?"

"There must be something wrong," said Nick.

"There is," agreed Nancy. "There is," said Mister Zip. "And it's up to you children to find out what it is. People are getting in some way without paying. I am sure."

Away went the Twins to see if they could find out how it came that the wood folk and mouse folk were not paying Mister Zip 10 cents apiece to get into Happy Go Lucky Park.

The sign by the gate said "Birds and Babies Free," but that's all it did say.

The Woodchuck boys liked the park so well they were there about every day.

And Mike Mole and Flop Field Mouse (who were the chummiest chums) might as well have brought their trunks and stayed for they were there first thing after breakfast every morning.

And Scramper Squirrel and Scramble Squirrel, who had come to spend their summer vacation with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Crack-nuts, were everlastingly at the park, too.

And there wasn't any sign that said "Woodchucks and Mole and Squirrels and Field Mice Free." None at all!

The Twins went along very quietly, not making a sound. And pretty soon they came to Maple Tree Plaza, where the Field Mouse family lived in the basement. Then they looked on the floor.

Mrs. Field Mouse stopped her ironing and answered it.

"Good morning," she said, pleasantly, wiping her hands on her apron, as she always did, no matter how clean they were.

"Good morning," said the Twins.

"Is Flop at home?"

"No, he isn't," said Mrs. Field Mouse. "He's gone to Happy Go Lucky Park."

"Did he have any money?" asked Nick.

"La, yes," laughed Mrs. Field Mouse. "But she won't have when he comes home. I always give him a thing for delivering my washings and he spends it all on the new amusement park. But I don't care. When he's there I don't have to worry about him and it keeps him away from the wheat field and Mister Owl's sharp eyes. Also, the house where the cat lives. That's why I let him go."

All right, Mrs. Field Mouse, said Nancy kindly. "We'll see him again some time."

"That's funny," said Nick when she had closed the door. "Flop must be paying his way in. Let's go and see Mrs. Mole at her house under the hazel bush. Maybe she can tell us something."

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By Uncle RAY

When the Middle Ages were just beginning, there was a ruler of the Franks named Pepin. He was strong but short.

One day, says an old story, Pepin was watching a fight between a lion and a huge bull. The lion sank its teeth into the bull and would not let go.

Pepin dared any of the tall men around him to go in and make the lion loose its hold. No one accepted the dare. Then, to the surprise of all, Pepin walked into the ring, raised his sword and cut off the lion's head.

"See!" he cried. "I am a short man, but I have done what no tall warrior dared to do!"

Hundreds of years later, a French king started a menagerie. In it, he had lions, bears, leopards and other wild beasts.

A story of the Middle Ages tells this: "A fine lady went to look at the king's animals. With her was a gentleman who admired her greatly. The lady let her glove fall into a den of lions. She asked the gentleman to pick it up. Without a word, he went into the den, expecting to be torn to pieces.

"The lions did not move. The man picked up the glove and walked out of the den in safety. Going to the lady, he said coldly: "Here is your glove."

"After that, he never spoke to her. Thus she was punished for taking such little heed of his life."

People of those times liked to watch the tricks of animals. Dogs, horses and monkeys were trained. They performed at fairs and at the castles of lords.

One of our pictures shows horse-training. At the left, the beast is being taught to stand on its hind legs. At the right, it is trying the harder task of walking on its front legs. The disk in the man's hands is probably used to help the horse stand up.

who lived in the strange cottage with the big fence around it. "We often stop and look at it when we go past."

"Do you live in the town?" asked the little girl.

"No, we're just staying here for a few weeks this summer. It's lots of fun."

"I think it would be, running around like that," sighed the little girl.

"Sometimes we'll stop and get you to go somewhere with us," offered Betty.

"Oh, I couldn't. She wouldn't let me. I don't know what she'd do if she saw me talking to you. Oh-ho!" And suddenly the little girl turned and ran back in the house.

Color the little girl's hair golden brown and her dress dull blue. Mount her on a light-colored and cut her out.

ONE PUNCH EQUALS $1,250—NOT MUCH!

HOUSTON, July 31.—F. A. Scuffer met a man on a street who had swindled him out of $1250. The temptation was too much for Scuffer, so he punched the swindler. Then he went down to the police station and filed charges against himself.

"I'm a law-abiding citizen," he told the judge. "I broke a law when I punched that man, so I want to file charges."

The judge assessed a fine of $5 after having met sure the Scuffer had been satisfied with one punch.

'BROKE' BY PRODUCING VENTURE, CHARLES RAY STARTS ALL OVER

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 1.—Charles Ray, foremost portrayer of the gritty juvenile, now is playing his biggest part.

Now, however, no audience to view it, nor orchestration to herald climaxes. It is a real life drama, with Ray in the stellar role.

True to the undertone of those stories which have made him famous, paralleling in motivation and action those plots in which the public loves him, his life story now has arrived at that pitch where fans are wont to covertly murmur, "Oh, I hope it comes out all right."

For Ray has chased Idealism, found it unbearably costly, and now has returned to just where he started, unknown, years ago.

Erstwhile producer and director, he is again under the banner and on the payroll of Thomas H. Ince, the man who raised him from his into parts and thence into stardom. Life has lent a dramatic touch by decreeing that the first of his new same man, C. Gardner Sullivan, who wrote "The Coward," first of all pictures to bring Ray out of the crowd. That was nearly a dozen years ago.

Signal Tower Made Near Railway Track

There is quite a bit of meaning in the title. "The Signal Tower" movie coming to the Cameo theater Sunday for there undoubtedly is a "signal tower" in any domestic situation, says Manager Pittman. Sometimes the signals are disregarded, sometimes not, depending on the couple's understanding.

Wadsworth Camp, widely known short story writer, wrote the original of the screen play. His story won a prize, as well as the acclaim of being one of the most convincing works of fiction ever written of persons in the more common walks of life.

Virtually all of the screen version was made along the right-of-way of a railroad running through forest covered mountains. Fidelity to technical detail was obtained largely through the advice and assistance of railroad officials. The exceptionally strong supporting cast includes Wallace Berry and Rockliffe Fellowes.

Perfect Mirage Seen Just Before Storm

CAPE MAY, N. J., Aug. 1.—Several hours before a storm descended on the South Jersey coast, there appeared off the Delaware capes the most perfect and beautiful mirage that fishermen of this section can recall.

It was so clear that Rehoboth Beach, 20 miles down the coast, could be seen against the horizon with the naked eye while the lighthouse at Lewis, at the entrance of the capes, loomed up white and ghostly like a phantom sentinel of the deep.

INDICATES LAST PROPOSALS MADE

Smith Says He'll Confer With Wistner Soon

Asked what progress was being made between his company and the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping's traction committee on a new franchise, Howard M. Smith, manager of the Port Arthur Traction company, today indicated that the traction company had already made its final proposition in the franchise discussed before the commission this week. Smith said he would confer with City Attorney Wistner today and see that the city's counter proposition was placed in concrete form as soon as possible for discussion.

"We haven't been making any money and the first thing we know we won't be able to meet our payroll," the traction manager predicted. "If his company were constantly forced to build free extensions other than those agreed on."

The street car company has no objections to abolishing the "neutral ground" of 20 feet with six-inch curbing provided in the tentative franchise, Smith said.

"That was put in there by R. L. Drake, chairman of the committee, and I can readily see why," Smith continued. "Contrary to the commission's objections to a parkway in the middle of the street, Smith claimed the streets scheduled for street car extensions, are not too narrow for one-way traffic."

"Why, when they are talking about making Austin street a one-way street in one direction and Waco street a one-way street in the other direction, there is surely something to one-way traffic."

Smith cited Washington boulevard in Beaumont, a new paved street with a parkway, as an instance of the superiority of one-way streets.

"Look at the immense volume of traffic going out on North Procter, and all that goes out on the Beaumont road—and that's only 16 feet wide, and has two-way traffic," he declared.

U. R. NEXT

We don't want any flapper to feel that any man is better than she is because my experience in Port Arthur is that they don't like it. I think this Sideburns girl has got no kick coming, because she's got a beautiful hairdo and I do as any myself. But a girl once in a while comes along who tries to give us the razz and you know enough about it to know that when a barber gets mad his work must suffer, because he's either got to talk or blow up and he remembers always that she's a lady whether she talks like it or not.

I'VE PICKED enough chewing gum off my heels that if it wasn't already chewed would furnish a drug store, and, hardly, a day passes but what some flapper doesn't ask for a drag off a cigarette though this is an exception because Iola prefer not to smoke in public. That's her business and not mine and I got no kick coming. I think my cigarette bill would be a great deal higher than I got so many "gimmies" from some of my clients that they changed my brand to Picayune and that takes confidence and a pair of brass lungs because it is a heavier smoke than these Natural Bubbles and English Ovals.

Now I don't mean these as a kick, because if you have faults, but anybody who thinks that a girl is going to wait in line in a barber shop while a couple of men get waited on don't know them like I do. The minute they get in the door you've got to put a towel around their neck, grab a comb and scissors and start cutting or else the barber is going to be howled out to a crisp and you wouldn't like that any more than I do. Usually a man don't mind waiting on a woman because that would mean they would go home earlier whereas by waiting in the barber shop they could stay down town longer and while they wait they don't mind watching a pretty girl get a hair cut.

I EXPECT I cut as many bobs as any barber in Port Arthur and of course we have our troubles like anybody else, because every once in a while a girl will take a look in the mirror before the job is done and start crying. "There are three times a girl cries and means it. When her date two-times her, when she gets married and when she gets her hair cut. If she cries hard at her wedding as some of them do getting a hair cut I sympathize with the groom. Of course a barber can't kiss her, but we try to kid her along and tell her how beautiful she looks and that usually works. I think barbers and grooms should form some kind of association because both have to make the girls stop crying."

Well, I hope you will take this as I mean it, because I think this Sideburns girl was trying to kid me and I just want you to know that I've been kidded by experts.

Yours truly,
U. R. NEXT.

SUSPECT TAKEN

the officers, the man under arrest says he drove from there in an automobile and gave the seven checks to local merchants in less than an hour's time.

The fact the day was per day at one of the red-light and so, many checks were being cashed by merchants is given as a reason why the alleged swindler had met with no trouble in his operations here.

Blank Checks Altered

All checks given here were signed by J. W. Walker as vice president of a Galveston bank and made out to Clarence D. Cunningham. According to Wyndell the man admits stealing a number of blank cashier checks from a Galveston bank some months ago. The checks, with the aid of a check writer and a protector, the alleged swindler said to officers he converted into apparently bona fide cashier's checks.

The signatures on the seven checks given here, show some variation but all are signed apparently with the same fountain pen and ink.

Merchants who were victims of the swindler's artistry were the Model Store, Tanager Shop, Dealer's Piggly-Winkly, Haber's Corner Drug and Andrus Park grocery. These will all be asked to identify the man held but officers say in the light of the confession already made this will not be necessary.

The man is said to have come through from California in an automobile with a woman whose name was his wife. The woman with the car were not found at Lake Charles, officers said.

FIREMEN EXTINGUISH BLAZE NEAR BRIDGE

A smoldering fire eating its way into a stretch of piling on the edge of the road across the bridge to the Pleasure Pier occupied the attention of the fire department this morning. The pier is in no danger, it was reported, the old and dried out piling, part of it rotted, having served its purpose.

Cause of the blaze was a mystery, but might be due to a match thrown by a smoker, first lighting bits of dry grass and then the piling.

The blaze caused rumors in Port Arthur that the pier was threatened, but firemen declared the blaze did not in any way menace the safety of the resort.

Odd and Ends and Comments on Our Morning Mail

There is such a thing as being widely good. Roger Dolan, back from a trip up in the North Country, to inspect what he thought were gold mines when he bought the stock, brings back this story:

"In a backwoods district where there is considerable tourist traffic—mostly fishing parties—are found a family running a hand laundry. The wife was famed for 50 miles as a 'good woman, an angel of mercy.' Fully half of her time was devoted to going to distant sections to nurse the sick. Seldom did she get pay. Her reputation for goodness and charity seemed well grounded—until I looked under the surface."

"I found out that, when she went away on her errands of mercy, she turned the laundry work over to her two daughters. They were about 10 and 12 years old, and actually hunched-backed from overwork."

"My own laundry was late, and one of the war little girls said: 'Mother's been gone a week. She left me with 30 washings to do.' 'Angel of mercy?' My own idea is that this system of 'being nice' at the expense of others is wicked."

Rodger, you have discovered something new. Many a celebrated philanthropist makes his gifts at the expense of underpaid employees. We know one employer of child slaves who is always first on the job to contribute for the relief of needy children in far-off countries.

But real charity and good deeds involve personal sacrifice. They are not the stolen work of others, hoarded and misapplied under an exploiter's name to satisfy his vanity.

This backwoods woman running a laundry and working her children into early graves to enable her to turn the unfortunate—she would have to stay at home and give up her charitable work if it were not for the slavery she imposes on her children. She gets the credit. But the normal child slave is making the rounds of mercy possible.

No debt to be paid at the expense of others. Some Wall Street bankers are eager for Uncle Sam to cancel the debts incurred by European borrowers from our national treasury. But they never hear the same bankers suggesting that they cancel the private loans they made to the same Europeans.

Roadhouse owner, near Fort Wayne, Ind., says he couldn't sell near beer at 10 cents a glass, but he can sell over a barrel a day as soon as he raised the price to 80 cents a glass.

The average American seems to get things because they are too expensive or too cheap. An accurate sense of value is rare in our country. We might profitably employ Hebrews and Chinese in our schools to teach this subject, in which they excel.

Politicians campaigning by radio this year will be turned out unless they make their speeches short and snappy. It is different with the democratic convention broadcast. The element of endurance and endurance is present to counteract the monotony of repetition and long duration. This will be the first presidential campaign in history in which campaigners will be able to address members of rival political parties. Can you imagine democrats filling a hall to hear republican speeches of republicans to hear democrats? The radio will work this marvel.

An airplane 3 1/2 hours stays in the air 35 hours without coming down to earth. Unlike most air stunts, this is important. It demonstrates that flying is getting safer. Popular reluctance at going up in a plane is due to fear of falling. As soon as a flier stays aloft a week it'll be time to advertise for buyers of flying lifts.

Alpine industry is obsessed with a craze for speed and long flights. It should, instead, concentrate on safety, the thing needed to bring planes into widespread use.

Tourists in South Carolina find two small children in the road crying. Nearby they locate the mother, dead. Her hands clutch a rattlesnake, also dead. Its fangs buried in her neck. She took no chances on the snake getting to her babies.

This is exceptional news—dew-drops happen often. But it is not remarkable—any mother would do the same. Motherhood is self-sacrifice.

Canadian provinces, which are like our states, have been falling off the water wagon. Ontario's the only province there's still dry. It will vote on the subject in the fall. Politicians up there expect Ontario to go wet. It probably would continue dry except for jealousy of wet neighbors and their liquor profits—largely from American tourists.

"We can't have prohibition unless the whole country is dry," is the Canadian viewpoint. In America it's the other way around. Prohibition was coming fast, by states and counties, until a national taboo law brought a reaction.

Quickest way to dry boots or shoes overnight is to fill them with hot sand or dirt from under a campfire. Supposed to fire, they may char and become too hard to wear.

TEXAS PRODUCES 47 PER CENT OF U. S. COTTON CROP

Texas growers produced forty-seven per cent of the American crop this year. All Texans who are interested in the cotton industry are reminded that nearly one billion dollars worth of raw cotton was exported from the United States during the twelve months ending with June 1934, representing 5,731,936 bales, which was an increase of thirteen per cent in quantity and a thirty-seven per cent in value compared with the twelve months ending with June 1933.

Great Britain took almost 287,000 bales more of raw cotton during the fiscal year of 1934 than the previous twelve months. German purchases of raw cotton showed an increase of 403,460 bales over the preceding year. This shows that nearly six million bales of American cotton were imported in the last fiscal year. It also shows that the European countries are scoring a comeback regardless of what foreign politicians or bankers may say.

American millers are growing. They say that the planters of the south should raise a bumper crop of cotton in order that the staple may be cheap and American manufacturers be given cheap cotton to compete with the foreign manufacturers. According to a trade journal, ninety per cent of the cotton goods manufacturers in the north and south are operating their mills without profit.

They say that trade authorities are of one opinion on the need of a large yield, which will automatically bring about a readjustment in the cotton goods industry. That only a crop of not less than thirteen million bales can accomplish this end and that it is difficult for the manufacturer to believe that the largest acreage ever planted to cotton in the United States will not produce a crop larger than 11,934,000 bales, which is the latest estimate of the government.

For a hundred years the south produced cheap cotton for the manufacturers of Old England and New England. First slave labor was utilized. After the abolition of chattel slavery the labor of women and children in the cotton growing states of the south was utilized with the producers of cheap cotton were ever in debt and most of the time on the verge of abject poverty.

Now the southern farmer is diversifying. He is producing food staples as well as cotton. He is filling his own smokehouse, his own grannery and supplying his own table with the necessities of life. He is doing more than this. He has been fascinated by the co-operative movement and cotton co-operatives are very numerous and their associations growing rapidly in the states where the cotton plant grows.

Europe is coming back and the figures show it. Russia is coming back and is a large buyer of American cotton. Japan is coming back and Japan looks to America for its fleecy staple. Texas is the greatest of all cotton growing states. Texas could produce a crop of thirteen million bales and not half try but the cotton grower has been taught the lesson that the American wheat grower will be taught that over-production means poverty for the American farmer.

However, the southern cotton grower is more fortunate than the northern wheat grower. There are thirty-seven wheat producing nations. There are only a few spots under the shining sun where the cotton plant blooms. King Cotton came back to his throne last year. He will be dethroned this year.

ARE YOUR FOOD HABITS BETTER?

Adequate Diets Lacking in Most Homes

As the family income increases, more of the budget allowance for food is spent for flavor. The so-called adequate diet—the amount of food of the right kind to promote growth and health—is usually a colorless and flavorless one, when only the minimum amount of money is expended. With more money we are able to buy foods which will brighten up our meals in both looks and taste.

This is an excellent change in some ways. Flavor and palatability are fun of flavor and it is wise to include these nutritious a little in our menus. On the other hand, as taste comes more of a meal, sometimes healthful foods are given up. Whole wheat bread and dark breads disappear from the table when there is all the more alk which our menus are prone to neglect.

bread made from boiled flour; we eat vegetables, no young and tender that they have not developed enough cellulose to furnish roughage. We strain our soups and eat foods which require little, or no, chewing.

Added to Medicine
What is the result? We are becoming more addicted to medicine—rather than trouble to use our teeth for chewing. It is not only that we need coarse food for regulating the body processes, but the very act of chewing brings the blood to the teeth and keeps them in a healthy condition.

The science of nutrition is teaching us the value of some of these scorned foods. For the sake of their teeth, give children whole grain cereals which require chewing. Serve vegetables such as celery, spinach, and cabbage. Use bran as a cereal and in soups. The old fashioned brown which was decidedly unpalatable has been superseded by an appetizing product which has been cooked, crumbled, and consoled. This is an excellent protective food. It furnishes roughage, and is rich in the minerals which our menus are prone to neglect.

Baked Fish With Parsley Sauce

Fish makes a nice light supper very much appreciated in warm weather, and bluefish, weakfish and fresh mackerel offer a variety at this season. It is especially nice baked and an agreeable change in the usual routine of roast, broil, fry and boil. Another advantage is that it requires such a short time to cook, and although many housewives realize this they are averse to baking fish because they have experienced some trouble in removing it from the baking pan to a platter. This difficulty can be overcome by using an aluminum wire baking pan. No transferring will be necessary then—the fish can be parished with lemon and watermelon and served intact in the china-like pan in which it is baked. Remove the scales by scraping with a dull knife from the tail and split the fish down the belly. Clean, wipe and dry and rub with salt inside and out. Dredge with flour, season with a little black or cayenne pepper. Place the fish with the inside upward in a well-buttered enameled ware baking pan and put a piece of butter about the size of an egg on top of the fish. Place in a hot oven without water. As soon as it begins to brown pour a half cupful of hot water into the pan and bake repeatedly every ten minutes afterwards. Bake until tender and serve with a sauce made of chopped parsley and onions mixed with salt, vinegar and oil.

New potatoes boiled with their jackets on and fresh asparagus with drawn butter would add the finishing touches for a nice meal.

HOT WEATHER MENUS
LUNCHEON—Ham mousse, lettuce sandwiches, chilled berries with powdered sugar, drop cookies, iced tea.

Dinner
Two cups finely chopped cold boiled ham, 1/2 cup white stock, 1 teaspoon granulated gelatin, 1/2 cup whipped cream.

Chop and pound the ham until smooth. Season well with mustard and paprika. Soften gelatin in cold water. Bring stock to the boiling point and stir in gelatin. Add to ham and mix well. When cold fold in the cream, whipped until stiff. Turn into a mold and set on ice to chill and become firm. Seraps of ham picked from the bone and the ends are delicious used up this way. A knuckle of veal well cracked could be boiled with celery and onion and the usual "bouquet garni" for the stock. If veal or chicken stock, if you live on a farm, is kept on hand in the summer time, many delicious and out of the ordinary dishes can be made with little effort.

Drop Cookies
Two tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons milk, 1 cup finely chopped nuts, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cream butter and stir in sugar. Add eggs well beaten. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt and stir into first mixture. Mix thoroughly. Stir in milk and vanilla. Add nuts. Drop from teaspoon onto oiled and floured cookie sheet and bake fifteen to twenty minutes in a slow oven.

Drop cookies are especially nice in hot weather as they take much less time to make than the rolled and cut ones.

DINNER—Fricassee of lamb, new potatoes with minced parsley, lima beans in cream, cucumber and watercress salad, toasted wafers, halves of cantaloupe filled with mixed fruit, half cup of coffee.

Lamb Fricassee
Three pounds shoulder of lamb, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 3 teaspoons salt, 1 small onion, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups lamb stock.

In the morning trim and cut the lamb in pieces convenient for serving. Put in kettle with onion and 6 cups of water and simmer until tender. Remove from liquor and cool. Cool stock and remove fat. Season meat with salt and pepper when about half done. Melt butter and saute meat until a pale straw color. Sift over flour and mix well, being sure every bit of the flour is absorbed by the butter and meat. Strain over 2 cups of lamb stock and cook, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Serve on a platter and garnish with tiny points of toast.

It won't take more than fifteen minutes to prepare this dish at dinner time. New potatoes should cook in half an hour and lima beans in the same time. Half an hour of work will get this dinner.

COSTUME SLIPS
New costume slips are more decorative than before and have hems of checks or stripes in contrasting colors.

FRENCH FLOWERS
A cluster of French flowers at the belt or on the left shoulder is one of the most popular ways of dressing up the plain frock.

West Side Forces Chubby's Boys to Hustle to Win

NORTH SIDERS WIN GAME, 7-6

Noble's Team Refuses Story Of Disbanding

BY VAN M. ANDRUS
Johnny Noble's West Side baseball players did not disband as reported, and yesterday afternoon on Lakeshore diamond they worried "Chubby" Earhart's North Side boys for seven innings in the last inning of which Couson hit into a play that resulted in Stephenson scoring with the winning run of a 7-6 game. The decision went to the North Siders.

The game was nip and tuck throughout, and it appeared that extra innings would be necessary to settle the matter, when Couson hit to Stoner, who instead of trying for Couson at first, tried to get Stephenson. A third and made a wild pitch, which allowed Stephenson to score with the winning run.

Kring Paces at First
"Big Boy" Valentino Kring played a game at first base that was truly excellent. Kring reached out with his mighty arm and brought down flies and liners with unerring precision. Cole brought the sensation of the game when he slid to receive one of Simonson's offerings, and sent it into deep center field and scored Palmer ahead of him. Billy Palmer also sent a fly into deep center field, but was caught out by a foot trying to reach home.

The announcement that the West Side team had disbanded was the result of the West Side team not appearing at their last two games. League officials thought that it was likely that they would disband. However, after the game they played yesterday, it appears to be the better plan to pay them due respect in the league. While they did not win, they proved they can make the road very difficult for the opposing team. They should take heart and keep on the road.

FLAT INNING
WEST SIDE—Palmer flew out to Kring. Cole flew out to Henry in center field. Wiggins went out to Letcher to Kring. No hits, no runs, no errors.

NORTH SIDE—Kring singled over second base. Kring was hit by a line drive from Earhart. Earhart grounded out, Palmer to Wiggins. Kring advanced to third on the play, and scored when Wiggins made a wild peg to third base in attempt to catch him off base. Letcher walked. Henry struck out. One run, one hit, one error.

WEST SIDE—Stoner hit a high fly to Henry who dropped the ball, and allowed Stoner to reach second base. Kring flew out to Kring. Wiggins sacrificed and advanced Stoner to third base. Bolen singled to center field and scored Stoner. Couson grounded out, Aldinger to Kring. One run, one hit, one error.

NORTH SIDE—Stephenson hit a grounder to Palmer and reached first base when Palmer muffed the ball. Simonson hit to Palmer, who threw wild to first base. Stephenson scored on the play. Simonson to second base. Couson singled into shallow left field and scored Stephenson. Simonson going to third base. Couson hit a liner to Stoner, who muffed the ball and allowed Couson to go safe at first. Kring struck out. Simonson scored on a passed ball. Couson going to third base, and Odom to second. Aldinger walked. Earhart struck out. Letcher flew out to Bolen. Two runs, one hit, three errors.

THIRD INNING
WEST SIDE—Bundick flew out to Kring. Palmer hit to Aldinger, who dropped the ball. Cole hit infield fly and reached first when Simonson tried for Palmer at second base. Palmer advancing to third on play. Wiggins singled over second base and scored Palmer. Stoner fouled out to Kring. Kring making excellent catch. King went out Aldinger to Kring. One run, one hit, one error.

NORTH SIDE—Henry flew out to Palmer. Stephenson struck out. Simonson flew out to Palmer. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING
WEST SIDE—Williams struck out. Bolen flew out to Earhart. Clendinning singled into right field. Bundick hit a grounder to Aldinger, who fumbled the ball, and went safe at first. Palmer hit a grounder to Aldinger. The ball took a bad hop and Aldinger missed it. Clendinning and Bundick scoring, and Palmer going to second base. Cole hit a home run and scored Palmer. Four runs, two hits, two errors.

NORTH SIDE—Couson flew out to Palmer. Odom went out, Stoner to Wiggins. Kring hit to Palmer, who muffed the ball, and went safe at first. Palmer hit a grounder to Aldinger. The ball took a bad hop and Aldinger missed it. Clendinning and Bundick scoring, and Palmer going to second base. Cole hit a home run and scored Palmer. Four runs, two hits, two errors.

FIFTH INNING
WEST SIDE—Stoner struck out. King went out, Aldinger to Kring. Williams went out, Aldinger to Kring. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Where You Get Plenty Of Miles Just on Wind

Where you are free from blowouts and where you get plenty of mileage on a friendly following wind—out in the sea in a sailboat on a sail—summer day. Horace, I ask you, what is the life? BABE TO PASS HIMSELF SOON

Season Record Likely To Be Above 60

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—"Records," said Babe Ruth, "were made to be broken."

And breaking them is something that the Babe does little else but. He broke one yesterday out in hot St. Louis, where he hit his 14th homer for the month of July—more than ever smashed before in the history of modern baseball. In 1921, during June, he hit 13 homers.

Lately to make history, the Babe is away on a merry chase after his season home run record. He is nine round trips ahead of where he was last year, but five behind where he was at this time in 1921. His total is now 33.

It would not be a bit surprising to see Ruth catch up and pass himself, as he might say, along about mid-September and make a new record of 60 or more homers for the season. It would be hard to believe surprise if this amazing young man should step out and bat the Woolworth building over into Jersey.

Anything is conceivable with the Babe, except that he should fail to outdo himself once in a while. Incidentally he might lead the league in batting as well as in home runs and runs driven in and a few other things, although the chances are that if he chooses to go after a new mark for homers he will have to sacrifice something.

Another Day In the Majors

DETROIT'S loss of second place to Washington and the double kicking given the Yankees by the Browns featured the feverish race in the American league yesterday. The Tigers were punched in the slats 1 to 0 in a pitching duel between Rip Collins of Texas and Zachary of the Yankees. Zachary allowed but three hits, while Collins and Texas, who went in at the beginning of the ninth, gave up four hits. The Texas was wild, however, and walked six of the Senators.

St. Louis took the opening game off the Yanks 2 to 1, Wiggins allowing the Noo Yawkers but five at-bats. In the ninth inning, Dave Danforth came through, 5 to 4, giving the Yanks six hits. Babe Ruth drove out his 33rd home run in the sixth round. It was his 14th for July—a new month record for the Babe.

Cleveland and Philadelphia split a double bill, the first going to the Indians 2 to 1, and the second to the Phillies 3 to 2. In ten innings, McCallahan hitting, won for the White Sox over the Red Sox, 5 to 4. McCallahan, playing second for Eddie Collins, got a double and two singles in four times at bat. A couple stolen by Shelly and the lightning-footed Ardeleano, coupled with one of McCallahan's bingles, put the game on ice.

The senior league, the P's, continued their win and gain and took their seventh straight game, incidentally being also the third straight off the Giants, 5 to 0. The game was called after the sixth on account of rain and darkness, but the Sox seemingly had the Giants eating out of their hand.

The Cardinals won their second straight from the Phillies, 4 to 3, Mitchell being knocked out of the box in the first inning. Four runs in the first inning were plenty to win on. The Brooklyn Dodgers were beaten by the Windy City Cubs, 4 to 1. Barrett driving in all of Chicago's runs.

BRADLEY HOGUE BEATS JESTER
Singles Champion Off Form In Dallas Tourney

DALLAS, Aug. 1.—Bradley Hogue, title holder, took the measure of Jester, 1923 Southern singles tennis champion, in straight sets, defeating the last year's title holder 6-4, 6-5 in the thirteenth and final tournament under way.

Jester was visibly off form, losing heavily on points and outs, while Hogue flashed into the lead at top stride.

Hogue, J. B. Adoue, Jr., John Barr, S. M. U. student, and Ben Farris, Oklahoma City, will go into the semifinals in the singles during the afternoon.

Adoue earned his way into the semifinals through defeat of Claude Monnett, Oklahoma City, after the latter brushed off Arthur Seelingson, San Antonio, in the third round.

Summaries of Thursday's play: Singles—Fourth round—Bradley Hogue, Dallas, defeated Jester, Dallas, 6-4, 7-5; Ben J. Farris, Oklahoma City, defeated Wither Settle, Dallas, 2-6, 6-3; G. J. B. Adoue, Jr., Dallas, defeated Claude Monnett, Oklahoma City, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4; John Barr, Dallas, defeated Ted Hackney, Fort Worth, 6-2, 6-3.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Heard, do!" he said when she saw him and Nick.

"Did you find out anything?" asked Mister Zip. Did you find out why so many people are getting into Happy Go Lucky Park for nothing?"

"Not yet," said Nick. "We went to see Mrs. Field Mouse in the basement of Maple Tree Flats, and she says she gives Flop money for taking home washings. She says she spends it all coming to your park and she doesn't care because she knows he's safe here."

"All right," said the fairman. "Maybe you'd better go and see Mrs. Mole next."

"We were just going to," said Nancy.

So away went the Twins to Mrs. Mole's house under the hazel bush. Mrs. Mole was at home and just doing up the lunch dishes. Tap, tap, tap! went Nick on her front door.

Mrs. Mole dried her hands and answered it. "I do declare," she remarked to herself, "I never put my hands into a batch of biscuit dough or dish water or something like that that somebody doesn't come. Who do you 'pose it is?"

She put on her spectacles (for she was very near-sighted) and opened the door.

"Howdy, do!" she said when she saw Nancy and Nick.

"Hod do you do," said the Twins. "Is Miley at home?"

"No," said Mrs. Mole. "He isn't. He's at Happy Go Lucky Park. He's there nearly all the time since it opened."

"Has he any money?" asked Nick. "Money?" exclaimed Mrs. Mole. "He should say so. Why, he could be gettin' without money. I'd like to know? The worst of it is just because he's so big for his age. Mister Zip charges him full fare. And he's two weeks younger than his cousin who always gets in for half."

"It's kind of you to let him go every day," said Nancy.

"Oh, I couldn't afford it," said Mrs. Mole. "Only my brother always sends Miley a dollar on his birthday. I keep it for him and give him 10 cents a day to spend. That's what he gets his money."

"Well, we will see him some time again," said Nick. "Goodbye!"

So back to Happy Go Lucky Park went the Twins to tell Mister Zip that Miley Mole got 10 cents a day to spend.

"Hopping rain toads!" exclaimed Mister Zip. "That's funny! I sort of thought—"

Suddenly he stopped. "How much money did you say Flop Field Mouse got every day?"

"Ten cents for carrying washings," said Nancy.

"And how much money did you say Miley Mole got?"

"Ten cents out of his birthday money."

The fairman pointed to two little figures in front of the peanut stand, each buying a bag of peanuts. And each was carrying a brand new balloon.

"Then tell me how they have any money left to spend, will you?" said he.

"That's right," said Nick. "If each of them only has 10 cents to get in, how can they come every day and still have 10 cents to spend?"

"There must be something wrong," declared the fairman.

"We'll find out what it is," said Nancy.

"I wish you would," said Mister Zip with a worried look. "If things keep on like this, I never, never, never will make my fortune." (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By Uncle RAY

A POET WHO NEARLY LOST HIS HEAD

Our picture shows a German count of the Middle Ages sitting beside his wife. The count holds a sword in one hand. The blade is still in its scabbard. Notice how the two are dressed. There is a crown on the count's head and frills above the sleeves of the countess.

That picture was made about six hundred years ago. The count was named Hermann, and his wife was called Sophie.

At the castle of this couple lived several poets. They sang their poems as they played on harp, or other instruments. Among the poets arose a dispute as to which was the best and which the worst.

To settle the quarrel, they decided to have a "tournament of poetry." They agreed that whoever was judged to be the worst poet, should pay for it by giving up his head.

The poet who lost was named Heinrich. The man whose job it was to cut off heads began to get his ax ready. The poor poet was unhappy (as we might expect)! He wished he had never quarreled about who made the best poems.

If Heinrich had given up all hope, he would soon have been a dead man. As it was, he decided to appeal to the countess. Falling on his knees before her, he begged to be saved.

Countess Sophie took pity on him. She sent for a certain man, who lived in Hungary. He came to the castle, talked with all the poets and patched up the quarrel.

That happening led to the writing of a poem a part of which has been saved for us.

The poem says that Heinrich tested his skill against only one other poet, a man named Walther.

Heinrich, as the tale goes, sang about the fine points of a Austrian duke. "With a pink gown and a hat with a pink band and looked much older than she had when they saw her before and she had been afraid to talk to them."

This time Betty and Billy called "Hello" to her and she answered them, coming up to the gate and not seeming nearly so shy. "She's asleep," explained the girl, and they knew she meant the mean-looking woman she lived with.

"Is she your grandmother?" asked Betty curiously.

"No, she's great-aunt. My mother's dead and my daddy had to go to South America and could not take me. He sent me here, and—" Her eyes filled with tears. "I'd better not talk to you any more," she said. "She might wake up. Goodbye, stop again." (Copyright, 1924, Associated Editors, Inc.)

A Queer Girl

A couple of days after first meeting the little girl in the queer cottage, Betty and Billy passed again, to find the girl out in the yard with a skipping rope. She had on a little pink gown and a hat with a pink band and looked much older than she had when they saw her before and she had been afraid to talk to them.

This time Betty and Billy called "Hello" to her and she answered them, coming up to the gate and not seeming nearly so shy. "She's asleep," explained the girl, and they knew she meant the mean-looking woman she lived with.
